

CHINA

STARTER

FRIED PORK POTSTICKERS

SWEET CHILI SAUCE

Potstickers are a dumpling. Most experts believe that dumplings were invented by Zhang Zhongjing, a Chinese medicine practitioner who lived in the Eastern Han Dynasty, the second imperial dynasty of China that lasted from 206 BC to 220 AD

ENTREE

MEI FUN

RICE NOODLES, BELL PEPPERS, ONIONS

~FLASH FRIED STEAK, SHRIMP, CHICKEN, OR VEGETARIAN~

Mei fun is a type of noodle made from rice that originates from China and is used throughout Asia. It also refers to dishes made with the noodles, whether stir-fried or in soup or bundled into spring rolls. This extremely versatile noodle is also known as rice vermicelli and rice sticks, and it's frequently confused with other noodles.

SIDE

SICHUAN SPICY GREEN BEANS

CHILI GARLIC SAUCE

Sichuan-style green beans are blistered and well-cooked. Sichuan peppercorns and dried chilis add spice and smokiness to the flavor.

DESSERT

DAN TAT

WHIPPED CREAM

Dan Tat (蛋挞), also known as Hong Kong egg tarts, are a beloved Chinese pastry with roots in Guangzhou, China, and a significant cultural presence in Hong Kong. The name "Dan Tat" comes from the Cantonese pronunciation, where "dan" means egg and "tat" means tart.